Introduction

What is Corporate Team Building Cooking?

- Team Building Cooking is an interactive and enjoyable experience that helps participants improve communication and strengthen team bonds.
- We offer a variety of corporate cooking programs, including workshops, challenges, tours, and dining events, designed to build teamwork, boost employee motivation, and improve communication.

What is the purpose of Team Building Cooking?

- Team-building activities are beneficial for all businesses, large or small, can enhance mutual understanding among employees, and create a sustainable organization.
- In particular, the use of the universal language of "cooking" can be expected to enhance mutual understanding among members in a multinational workplace.

Benefits of Corporate Team Building Cooking

- Through the "cooking experience," we will enhance mutual understanding and "share awareness" among employees while having fun.
- By cooking together with people who have different values or who do not usually communicate with each other, participants can strengthen their sense of teamwork and build closer relationships.

The Main Purposes

- ✓ An activity for staff gathered from all over the world
- ✓ As an incentive trip program for loyal customers
- ✓ As a program for each country's executives
- ✓ As a program aimed at improving communication for in-house staff
- ✓ As health management and welfare

[Reviews from our customers]

• We used this program to improve our teamwork as our group has been shuffled around within the organization.

We had some people who didn't know each other at all, however, we were able to have conversations which we normally don't have at work by going shopping and cooking meals together. We really had a great time.

(Pharmaceutical company)

• We used this program to entertain our customers from overseas.

We normally take them to a Kaiseki Style dinner or a famous restaurant, however by cooking together through this program, we became closer and we felt that were able to build trustable relationships.

In addition, Tsukiji Fish Market is famous for fresh fish and they were delicious! Our customers were very pleased with the experience. (Finance company)

• I was looking for some activities for our employees to participate in, who are from all over the world after the main meeting.

This program was conducted in English and the theme was food which was very popular and we got good feedback from them. Also, thank you for preparing alternative food for vegans and for some employees who had allergies to particular foods. It was greatly appreciated. (IT company)

Expected Benefits

Team Building Cooking Can be Expected to Have The Following 6 Effects

1. 「 Creativity and Flexibility 」

They can enjoy entertaining activities while trying to achieve their goals.

They can also experience being creative themselves to create for the effect of added value under the right amount of pressure.

2. 「 The Power of Teamwork 」

As teams work together to achieve goals, they naturally develop a sense of shared responsibility and mutual understanding among employees.

Team building with cooking elements can be expected to improve mutual relations and teamwork among team members, as they are responsible for the team's goal of "completing the dish".

3. 「 Leadership 」

Those who are selected as leaders will have the opportunity to lead the team.

While enjoying cooking, they can also gain experience in moving the organization forward by "sharing the importance of objectives with other employees" and "setting specific output goals" in order to unite the thoughts of team members and achieve goals.

4. 「Time Management」 「Arrangement」

It is required to work with the members of the team to produce a finished product within a limited time. This process inevitably requires the ability to make arrangements.

5. 「 Communication Ability 」

Even employees who couldn't usually communicate with each other can take on the challenges while having fun, so the conversation develops naturally.

In particular, team building that incorporates cooking involves a lot of trial and error, so it is essential for employees to adjust their work style and give one another feedback on the point that needs improvement.

6. 「 Understanding Diversity 」

Understand the values and skills of diverse members who are not homogeneous.

By doing "collaboration through food", you can understand the differences in values and skills with various members who could not normally communicate, and you can experience value creation in a diverse team during employee training.

Successful Previous Clients

TSUKIJI COOKING team building program was introduced as a recommended program in the Business Event Tokyo catalog.

TSUKIJI COOKING

8 Features of Team Building

1. Use the best ingredients for the best taste

We use fresh ingredients sourced directly from the market, including the same high-quality ingredients used by top restaurants. Participants are highly satisfied with the quality and taste of our food.

2. Abundant experience

It has been implemented since 2013 and has a wealth of experience in dealing with international clients such as foreign companies, VIPs, and MICE.

3. Offer a variety and flexibility

With our extensive network in the field of food and planning ability, we provide a food culture experience that goes beyond the boundaries of cooking classes.

4. Fun programs through food

Away from the business-like environment, we try to create a program where people can have fun and learn new awareness through food.

5. Programs can be customized to meet the needs of companies and organizations

We can accommodate small to large groups of up to 1,000 people. Vegan and other dietary restrictions can be accommodated.

6. Nationwide off-site programs are available

We will propose a program that can be implemented according to the location.

7. Use local ingredients

If the program is held in a local area, it can be implemented with a unique program using local ingredients and local sake.

8. A variety of lessons by carefully selected instructors

You can learn Japanese and international cuisine, Japanese sweets, and sake tasting, etc. from top-class instructors selected from a network of 2,000 classes nationwide.

Voice of The Visitor (Past Examples)

Company (Industry)	Contents of Consultation	Execution Details	Benefit
Domestic pharmaceutical company Participants: Japanese, International	Employees of overseas group companies will visit Japan, so I would like to promote friendship while having them understand the hospitality and our products and company initiatives by team-building cooking using our own products (food, beverages).	We developed an original recipe using ingredients from the company, cooked it together, and then had a buffet-style socializing party.	We don't often have the opportunity to have people actually use and try our products, so it was great to have them experience it in this way. At the same time, it was a very meaningful time for us to deepen our friendship with Japanese employees.
Foreign manufacturer Participant: Japanese	Human relations in the company are poor and the turnover rate is high. There is not much of a culture of cooperation and people tend to be individual players, so we want to revitalize communication within the company.	The participants were divided into groups and competed against each other in a team competition by cooking and presentation according to a theme.	We were able to have different forms of communication, such as thinking about various things and going shopping together. I was glad that everyone seemed to be having fun and working together, and I hope our workplace will always have this atmosphere.

Voice of The Visitor (Past Examples)

Company (industry)	Contents of Consultation	Execution Details	Benefit
Foreign apparel company Participants: Japanese, International	I would like you to provide food for a New Year's party for 300 people, which will also serve as a team building activity. The schedule is tight so we've always catered for lunch, but we would like to eat a delicious meal that everyone can enjoy. Also, since many of the employees are from out of town, we would like to give them a taste of Tsukiji's delicious food.	Create creative sushi using ingredients from Tsukiji Market, and present it using boards, cups, and other tableware. Each team takes an Instagram-worthy photo and posts it to the website, and the winning team is selected and awarded. The sushi is served as lunch for everyone.	I thought it would be difficult to do team building for 300 people at once, but I'm glad we were able to do it and the employees were excited. It was a creative experiment that stimulated the employees. This initiative was also highly evaluated by the participating overseas management and designers. As the time limit was short, everyone was able to cooperate and show teamwork as one team.
